Moving Teaching on from Good to Outstanding!

The aim of this day is to provide practitioners with the knowledge, confidence and strategies that can be used to move teaching on from good to outstanding.

The Tutor:
Steve Bywater, Principal of Newquay Junior Academy (Ofsted Outstanding in 2009 and most recently inspected in June 2013), NLE and Ofsted Inspector will lead this practical, informative day.

Recent feedback has included:

“A knowledgeable, though provoking tutor who has lots of real experiences to share.” (Teacher from Cornwall, 2013)

“Lots of suggestions on how to use school data during an inspection.” (Head from Cornwall, 2013)

“A great opportunity to share good practice... lots of ideas that can be taken back to school.” (Teacher from Cornwall, 2013)

The day aims to:

- Identify and explore what Ofsted deem ‘outstanding teaching’ and ‘outstanding pupil achievement’
- Explore practical strategies that can be implemented in order to make the most out of school data
- The role and value of effective Afl
- Examine strategies for ensuring that all pupils are challenged and that all pupils are making progress
- Provide the opportunity to evaluate the effectiveness of current classroom observation schedules
- Identify methods for ensuring effective questioning
- How to effectively deploy and monitor the impact of TAs on pupil performance
